WILCOX & GIBBS SEWING MACHINE
We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which renders it superior to any other in use:
It forms a flat elastic seam which will not rip or ravel.
It is entirely noiseless.
A patented device prevents its being turned backward.
The needle cannot be set wrong.
Can be used successfully without other instruction than accompany the Machine.
It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute 1863. For particulars, enquire of

THE CASE OF THE RAPPAHANNOCK.—The British Crown lawyers appear to have their hands full of criminal prosecutions against Confederate officers and agents for violating the Foreign Enlistment Act. The latest case is that of the indictment against Rumble, an inspector of machinery in the Government dockyard at Sheerness, for helping equip and man the Confederate war vessel, the Rappahannock, which case had been commenced at the last arrivals, but had been broken off and postponed to February on account of the absence of witnesses. Very little seems to come of these trials. They break off, or the prosecutions are compromised, or when a conviction is obtained—as in the instance of Jones and Highatt, who were convicted under the most flagrant circumstances of furnishing a crew for the Georgia—so paltry a fine is inflicted that it can hardly be called a serious attempt to enforce the law of neutrality between England and this country.

In the present case of the Rappahannock the Government make a great show of enforcing the law. They have got up an indictment with 166 counts, and come into Court with a great array of counsel, headed by the Solicitor General, and embracing among the number Harcourt, so conspicuously known as "Historicus." As the trial is not completed, it would be obviously unfair, to criticise it as a national affair. We notice, however, that the Solicitor General in his opening says of the defendant Rumble's doings, that "there probably was never heard of a more audacious attempt on the part of a belligerent to violate neutral sovereignty and neutral territory."

It seems, according to his statement, that the defendant was one of the head-officers of the Government dockyard, an inspector of machinery, and when the British Government had unwittingly sold an unserviceable war-ship to the Confederate agents—a ship called the Victor—this inspector had made a business of employing himself in getting the Victor turned into a serviceable cruiser for the Confederates' behalf. He attended to having her repaired and refitted, availing himself of the Government docks and men for the purpose, and then acted as agent in procuring her crew. The case became so flagrant that the ship had to fly from the Sheerness dock-yard over to the French coast, to Calais, to get rid of being seized, (at the instance of Adams, we suppose,) as an intended Confederate privateer. But Rumble, not at all alarmed at the forced escape of the vessel, went over to France and kept on his business of fitting her out and providing her with a crew—he all the while continuing his functions as one of Her Majesty's naval inspectors. Finally, the case having grown so notorious that the English and French Governments were called to sharp account by our Ministers for their complicity with the enterprise, Rumble was complained of and eventually brought to trial.

For the British Government to sell a war vessel to the Confederate agents, which was immediately taken into a British royal dockyard to be refitted, which had her masts set up by the aid of another Government ship, whose rigging was put up by Government riggers, whose men (all Englishmen) were enlisted for her by a Government official, and which was towed to sea where she hoisted the Confederate flag within less than twenty-four hours, by a Government tug, as one of the witnesses swore, much to the consternation of the Crown lawyers, certainly presents an outline of facts which, as the children say, burns pretty close to the doors of Her Majesty's Ministry. We gather from the case one item of news, relating to the French Emperor's course in regard to this same Rappahannock, worth bringing to the public notice. Said the Solicitor General, in the course of his opening: "The French Government not choosing to have their ports made the scene of hostile operations, interposed and prevented any further equipment of the vessel (the Rappahannock) and by the short and summary process of mooring a man-of-war across her bows, prevented her going out of port, and she has been kept a prisoner in the harbor ever since."

This conduct of the Emperor's in doing the honest thing towards keeping international neutrality inviolate, is so much in contrast with his course in receiving the Florida into his royal dockyard and permitting her to make repairs ad libitum, that we take pleasure in restating it on the Solicitor General's authority.—Boston Transcript.

SINGER SEWING MACHINES!
MANUFACTORY:
182, 184, 186, 188, 190 and 194 Mott street, New York
MOTTO—"The Singer Sewing Machines are the only Machines that can Sew all kinds of Cloth, and with all kinds of Thread."
Singer's Letter A Family Machine is the best and cheapest Machine in the world for Family Sewing. There is no doubt as to the value of our Machines for manufacturing purposes, but it is only of late that the public begin to learn that the essential elements of a Machine best adapted to the heaviest work, would also be the elements to be embodied in a Family Machine.
We would ask for our Letter A Machine the attention of Vest Makers and Dress Makers, and all those who want Machines for Light Manufacturing Purposes. They embody the principles of the Manufacturing Machines, and are like them, the interlocked stitch, and are destined to be as celebrated for FAMILY SEWING and Light Manufacturing purposes, as our Manufacturing Machines are for manufacturing purposes in general.
FAMILY SEWING MACHINES are valuable in proportion to the number of things they can do well. See what ours can do before making a purchase.
☞ All persons requiring information about Sewing Machines, their sizes, prices, working capacities, and the best method of purchasing, can obtain it by sending for a copy of the SINGER MANUFACTURING COMPANY'S ILLUSTRATED PAMPHLET, which is entirely devoted to the subject. It will be sent Gratis.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE.

No Flag but the Old Flag—the Red, White and Blue,
With the Stars of the Union unbroken and true!
Arise and defend it, ye sons of the brave,
Whose blood bought the banner your valor must save.

THURSDAY MORNING, MARCH 2, 1865.

Reconstruction.

As we understand it, the Nation is fighting to preserve the Union intact, not to reconstruct it. The popular belief is, that the Union was meant to be perpetual; and the popular will is, to maintain it so by force of arms. The efforts of the rebellion tend to the subversion of the Government and the disruption of the Union; while the efforts of the Government are put forth for its own maintenance, and the integrity of the Union is a natural consequence of its success. As we view the matter, the solution is not difficult; believing that the Union still exists, despite all attempts for its destruction, and that the relations of the States that have attempted secession are suspended, but not impaired by that attempt, it would seem to rest with themselves, by laying down their arms and resuming their former relations with the Federal Government, to restore the national harmony and regain their former position whenever they may choose to comply with the Constitution and the laws.

Mr. Sumner claims that by rebellion they have ceased to exist as States, and have returned to a territorial condition. Many of the seceded States never were in such a condition; for instance Virginia was one of the original thirteen that formed the Federal compact, and if she returns to her original position, it would be to become as independent as she was before the constitution was adopted that formed the United States into one nation. The simpler the plan to be carried out the more feasible it will be, and the more readily it will be adopted by the States directly concerned. Beaten in the field, disorganized in the Cabinet, and wanting in harmony of legislative action, there is much more probability that they will return to their allegiance, by resuming their former positions, than if they are offered humiliating conditions and terms, and obliged to occupy a subordinate place in the Nation. Leave the door open for return, and let it be understood that, whenever the masses shall decide to enter, there will be no questions asked, no humiliating terms imposed. With the leaders, the Government must deal as they deserve, and its honor demands; but by preserving the self-respect of the masses, by appearing to forgive and forget, we may hope to soon see again the harmonious action of national affairs extended to all the States.

General Sherman in answering the enquiries of a Georgian, expresses himself so briefly, forcibly and well, that we cannot do better than to give to our readers the views he entertains. Writing from Savannah, of date January 8th, he says:

DEAR SIR:—Yours of the 3d instant is received, and, in answer to your inquiries, I beg to state: I am merely a military commander, and can only act in that capacity; nor can I give any assurances or pledges affecting civil matters in the future. They will be adjusted by Congress when Georgia is again represented there, as of old.

Georgia is not out of the Union, and therefore the talk of "reconstruction" appears to me inappropriate. Some of the people have been and still are in a state of revolt; and as long as they remain armed and organized, the United States must pursue them with armies, and deal with them according to military law. But as soon as they break up their army organizations and return to their homes, I take it they will be dealt with by the civil Courts. Some of the rebels, in Georgia, in my judgment, deserve death, because they have committed murder and other crimes which are punishable with death by all civilized Governments upon earth. I think this was the course indicated by General Washington in reference to the whiskey insurrection, and a like principle seemed to be recognized at the time of the Burr conspiracy.

As to the union of the States under our Government, we have the high authority of Gen. Washington, who bade us be careful and jealous of it, and the still more emphatic words of General Jackson, "The Federal Union, it must and shall be preserved." Certainly, Georgians cannot question the authority of such men, and should not suspect our motives, who are simply fulfilling their commands. Wherever necessary, force has been used to carry out that end, and you may rest assured the Union will be preserved, cost what it may. And if you are sensible men you will conform to this order of things, or else migrate to some other country. There is no other alternative open to the people of Georgia.

My opinion is that no negotiations are necessary, nor Commissioners, nor Conventions, nor anything of the kind. Whenever the people of Georgia quit rebelling against their Government, and elect members of Congress and Senators, and these go and take their seats, then the State of Georgia will have resumed her functions in the Union.

These are merely my opinions, but in confirmation of them, as I think, the people of Georgia may well consider the following words, referring to the people of the rebellious States, which I quote from the recent annual message of President Lincoln to Congress at its present session:

"They can at any moment have peace simply by laying down their arms and submitting to the national authority under the Constitution. After so much, the Government could not, even if it would, maintain war against them. The loyal people would not sustain it. If questions should remain, we would adjust them by the peaceful means of legislation, conference, courts and votes. Operating only in Constitutional and lawful channels, some certain and other possible questions are and would be beyond the power of the executive to adjust—as, for instance, the admission of members into Congress, and whatever might require the appropriation of money."

The President then alludes to the general pardon and amnesty offered for more than a year past, upon specified and most liberal terms, to all except certain designated classes, even these being "still within contemplation of special clemency," and adds:

"It is still open to all, but the time may come when public duty shall demand that it be closed, and that, in lieu, more vigorous measures than heretofore shall be adopted."

It seems to me that it is time for the people of Georgia to act for themselves, and return in time to their duty to the Government of their fathers.

Respectfully, your obedient servant,
W. T. SHERMAN, Maj. Gen.

ANOTHER SKIRMISH.—The soldiers sent to look after the Indians on the Snake had another skirmish with them, the particulars of which we did not learn. It is stated, however, that ten of the Indians were killed and a number of prisoners and some live stock were taken. Whether there were any casualties on the side of the troops we are not informed. They got out of ammunition, which, had the Indians known, they might have easily won the fight. Teams loaded with provisions and ammunition were dispatched yesterday from Fort Boise, and the men will probably be kept there as long as there is a necessity for them.—Idaho Statesman.

The Overland Mail comes in regularly of late within the schedule time, seven days from Salt Lake. The bags have to be packed over the mountains yet, the snow being too deep for vehicles.—Ibid.

A SWEET RELIC.—A petrified beehive was found near Grass Valley, Cal., with honey and bees all petrified. It was found seventy-five feet below the surface in a log two and a half feet in diameter and forty feet long. The Grass Valley National says: "The beehive is no matter of fancy, but of pure demonstration. Before us is a sample of the comb full of honey, all petrified. The normal thickness of the comb, the duplicate of cells with their invariable hexagonal shape, are all before us as distinctly as if a fresh piece of honey-comb, all dripping and just cut from the box, had been brought and placed before our eyes on a sheet of paper."

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 28.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2[illegible].—As the rebel papers [illegible] receive [illegible] of the [illegible] military news, we are without any [illegible] intelligence regarding Sherman's progress in South Carolina. The rebel papers [illegible] over the capture of Charleston. They are acknowledged to have been [illegible] events. At Richmond, [illegible] opposition to the advance of the national forces.

From New Orleans.

CAIRO, Feb. 2[illegible].—[illegible] Meredith has [illegible] New Orleans [illegible] exists at New Orleans [illegible] disloyal society having [illegible] meetings. [illegible] It is ruled by Confederate sympathisers whose object is to [illegible] political power [illegible] protect secessionists in that city from their just deserts.

Rebel Movements in Tennessee.

MEMPHIS, Feb. [illegible].—The Bulletin of this morning says: The rebel leaders have lately issued orders to have all detachments of their troops in West Tennessee collected together, with all the conscripts as they have gathered, and sent south without delay. We have reason to believe that a large portion of the rebel forces [illegible] Memphis have gone [illegible]. The [illegible] is said to be the Mobile Railroad. A [illegible] Arkansas developes the fact that much suffering exists from scarcity of food.

Mobile not Evacuated.

CAIRO, Feb. 26.—Deserters from Taylor's army declare that there is no intention on the part of the rebel authorities to abandon Mobile. That city has always been a depot for military material of all kinds. It is said the cannon and supplies recently taken to Selma formed no part of the armament and stores [illegible] for the defense of Mobile. The rebels believe Selma is to be assailed soon, and are trying to put it in a good defensive condition without weakening Mobile.

Number of Taylor's and Forrest's Forces.

The same correspondent says the report that Forrest has 25,000 men under him is untrue. He has not over 2,000. Dick Taylor and Forrest together cannot muster 8,000. Three gunboats have been stationed at the mouth of Red river to frustrate any raid from that stream into the Mississippi that the rebels may design making, and also to prevent any rebel troops crossing.

State of Things in Lee's Army at Richmond

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The Herald's [illegible] correspondent states that Gen. Lee has gone to the southward to conduct operations [illegible] Sherman, leaving Gen. [illegible] Johnson in command at Richmond and Petersburg. A large part of the rebel army around Richmond had on Saturday last (25th) been under marching orders for several days, and a considerable number of rebel troops are believed to have been dispatched to act against Sherman. Reports of Lee's designs to shortly abandon Petersburg and Richmond are repeated. Deserters now tell that notice has been given by him to the people of the former place to have their tobacco and stores removed within four days. They say nearly all the artillery has been taken from the Petersburg batteries, only sufficient being left to keep up appearances.

Heavy artillery practice, continuing for several hours, was indulged in on Thursday and Friday last by the opposing armies in front of Petersburg. The casualties, however, were small, and the firing appears to have had no result of importance.

A steady stream of rebel deserters is pouring into the Union line, averaging at least one hundred daily. A large portion bring with them both arms and equipments, and cavalry bring in their horses. Since the fall of Charleston, the South Carolina troops in large numbers have joined the deserting throng.

The Richmond Sentinel reports that Gen. Grant was again massing on the Vaughan road.

Gen. Singleton and Judge Hughes, en route from Washington to Richmond, arrived at City Point on Saturday last, 25th.

From Charleston.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The Memphis, which left Charleston bar February 21st, reports that the national flag floats over the city and all the forts in the harbor. General Gilmore's headquarters were established in the city. The forts which remain in good condition are of the most formidable character. Two hundred pieces of artillery, spiked, but otherwise uninjured, fell into our hands. About six thousand bales of cotton were burned by the rebels before they left, but it is believed large quantities of it, and also tobacco, were concealed in the houses. Just before the national troops entered the city, the rebel rear guard were busy plundering and firing the houses. Few but the poor inhabitants remained in the city after its abandonment, the wealthy leaving it before or with the rebel army. The new blockade running steamer Deer, with a cargo of liquors, was captured in the harbor on the night of the 18th while running up toward the city, her officers being entirely ignorant of the change of affairs there. It is said the garrisons from the forts and the crews of the rebel gunboats in Charleston harbor were sent to Wilmington, N. C. The Richmond papers are barren of news concerning Sherman's movements or whereabouts. They are very boastful in tone, and appear confident in their prophecies of his overwhelming defeat. They say his doom may be looked upon as sealed.

Washington Items.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—The President signed and approved an act to prevent officers of the army and navy, and other persons engaged in the military and naval service of the United States from interfering in elections in the States. No troops or armed men are to be brought to the polls unless necessary to repel enemies or to keep the peace, nor shall it be lawful for any officer to prescribe or fix by proclamation, order or otherwise, the qualifications of voters, or in any manner interfere with the free right of suffrage. Officers so offending are liable to indictment for misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof, shall be fined not exceeding $1,500 and suffer imprisonment in the penitentiary for not less than three months nor more than five years. Persons so convicted may be disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit or trust, under the Government of the United States.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The Times' Washington special dispatch says: Washburne, a member of Congress, read, yesterday, a letter from General Grant, in which he comments upon Sherman's movements in a hopeful view. A few more days of success, he says, will place the rebels in a situation from which they cannot escape.

Movements in the South West.

CAIRO, Feb. 27.—The New Orleans Times says: A sensation rumor from Matamoras via Brazos states that Imperial Governor Mejia has forbidden clearances for American ports, and our Consul has been sent out of Matamoras. The schooner Jane Dolan, which cleared for New Orleans on the 15th, was lost off the bar at Matamoras with a full cargo of merchandise and a number of passengers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Advices from New Orleans state that Kirby Smith's army still refuses to cross to the east side of the Mississippi. Two attempts to move the men were made, and it is thought a third attempt would result in open mutiny. All the Union prisoners at Camp Ford, Texas, had been exchanged.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The Times' [illegible] correspondent, under date of the 17th, gives details of a great movement in the Southwest. An expedition had started to go to New Orleans and from thence to Pascagoula, Miss., where it will join Canby's forces investing Mobile. The first object will be to capture Mobile; the second the capture of Cahawba, Selma and Montgomery, Alabama, and Columbus (Georgia); the third, the destruction of Hood's army. If everything works well, Kirby Smith's trans-Mississippi army will be attended to next summer.

News from Richmond.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—The Richmond Dispatch, received to-day, says: Unbroken quiet reigns along the lines on the north side of the James river. The enemy has concentrated on his new position on Hatcher's run. During Tuesday and Wednesday nothing of consequence occurred. They captured a portion of our picket line in the vicinity on Tuesday night, the 21st. The line was re-established by our forces next morning. A very handsome little affair occurred one day last week in the vicinity of Burwell's Bay, in which about 250 Yankees belonging to the celebrated naval brigade were defeated and routed by a comparatively small force of Confederate scouts under command of Lieut. Shelburne, assisted by a part of the independent signal corps, under command of Lieut. Wood. This force of the enemy had been sent out to intercept and capture a secret expedition known to have been dispatched in that direction recently by our Government. While resting at Burwell's Bay, their force was vigorously attacked by the scouts, and the signal corps may have eventually succeeded in killing and wounding a number and putting the balance to flight. Sixteen dead bodies were subsequently found. Six were lying on the road leading to Smithfield, and ten were in Smithfield, having died of their wounds. We did not learn whether any prisoners were taken, but a number of wounded Yankees were carried off by their comrades.

From Rebeldom.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—The [illegible] of the 20th gives an entirely new version of the capture of Columbia. [illegible] streets. Nearly all the [illegible] removed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 28.—The [illegible] of the 21st, has a [illegible] Sherman's rear [illegible] a large number [illegible] says it was Cheatham's troops [illegible] Wilmington had [illegible] bales of cotton [illegible] awaiting the arrival of the Federal forces.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—Rebel papers contain the following:

AUGUSTA, Feb. 2[illegible].—[illegible] Echols reports that [illegible] detachments of Vaughan's cavalry struck the railroad [illegible] Knoxville, at Sweetwater and Athens, capturing the garrisons at both places, [illegible] men of the 10th regiment, with horses and equipments, were taken. (Signed,) LEE.

We learn that the missing party of Yankees [illegible] who were reported [illegible] on the Weldon Railroad, have returned to Washington, North Carolina. We have been unable to obtain any information as to the amount of damage done by them.

Congressional.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 1.—Private dispatches quote gold yesterday in New York at 202@203, sterling exchange 107½@108.

A citizens meeting last night appointed twenty-five gentlemen to serve as a committee of arrangements for the celebration on Saturday. Also passed a resolution inviting Gen. McDowell and his command to participate. The Second, Seventh and Eighth regiments of Volunteers will join in the procession. These number between 3,000 and 3,500 men, and will make one of the finest military displays ever witnessed on this coast.

The libel suit of Henry [illegible] vs. J. W. Simonton, of the Bulletin, for $5,000 damages, is [illegible].

A verdict of $100 damages was rendered in favor of John D. Welsh and Henry Hughes, Daniel Coughlin for causing the caving of an embankment upon defendant's premises.

Intelligence has been received from Washington that a bill has passed Congress which secures to George C. Gorham the appointment of Clerk of all the United States Courts on this coast.

It is said that McCarthy and McDonald, of the Flag, have had a personal encounter resulting in favor of McCarthy; also, that McDonald has been superseded on the editorial staff by [illegible] Bennett, formerly of the Grass Valley Union. To-day the County Court upon calling the case of D. J. McCarthy entered for libel, the defendant did not make his appearance, a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

Helena Crowell, who was indicted for forging her husband's name to a deed to some property in this city, forfeited her bail in the County Court this morning and a bench warrant was issued for her arrest.

The Tehama house was sold for $2,550 yesterday and is to be relieved forthwith.

The San Francisco and Alameda Railroad has been completed to San Leandro, and will be open to public travel to-morrow.

John Kelly, Jas. Riley, Jas. Butler, Jno. Gillen, and Jno. McCormick are under arrest, charged with riot in tearing up the fence, and other riotous conduct near Lone Mountain. The trouble grew out of a land dispute.

The Imperial Silver Mining Co. to-day declared a dividend of $8 per share.

The official report of duties collected at our Custom House for January, 1865, is $329,061 23, and for February, $501,830 [illegible], making a total thus far in 1865, of $830,895 [illegible], which is considerably less than last year.

A smart shower of hail fell this morning, and the weather has been inclement all day.

The ship Chas. A. Farwell, 112 days from New York, arrived in port to-day.

FROM BOISE.—We take the following from the Idaho World:

Mr. Lynch, of Rocky Bar, came into town on Wednesday. He informs us that the two mills are at work and crushing rock with favorable results. Provisions are very scarce and the snow about five feet deep.

Quartz is the prevailing topic now with the people of the Basin, absorbing almost every other subject of conversation. During the winter, notwithstanding the snow, prospecting has been going on, and the numerous ledges discovered in all portions of the Basin has given the subject [illegible] which excites the liveliest hopes of the future in the breasts of interested parties. Enough has been already developed to prove this Territory one of the richest of mineral countries.

Quartz deeds, conveying much valuable ground in this county, have recently been filed in the office of the Recorder. Messrs. Edward Leonard, of New York City, Charles A. Trowbridge, of Detroit, and Mr. Bates, are the grantees in several of the most important of these deeds. The total consideration appearing upon the face of these conveyances, including some intermediary deeds, amounts to $160,000. This speaks better than any other language of the estimation in which the quartz interests of this country are held.

A friend has showed us a letter received from Owyhee, Ruby City, dated Feb. 5th. From it we learn that another Indian war is expected. The Snake Indians have made a raid upon Pleasant Valley again, driving all the settlers out of the valley. John McComins, agent of the Humboldt Express Company, and another man, whose name was not given, were killed. The Indians also ran off the Express stock, five hundred sheep and burned a number of houses. Two companies of men left Ruby City in pursuit, but there was little probability of overtaking them, as they had to pack their blankets and provisions on foot.

The writer thinks Ruby City will be a lively camp in the spring, and great expectations were being formed of investments to be made by New York capitalists. Tunnel rights were all the rage there. Fogus' mill has stopped work, the shoes having worn out and others expected had not arrived.

Mr. Murphy, County Recorder, informs us that he has recorded during the past week, nearly two hundred quartz claims. Good business for one week, and continually increasing.

PORTLAND, OREGON,

Where Maidens reign surpassing bright,
To lend enchantment to the night,
And every thought of man beguile
With Beauty's angel enthralling smile.

They do more numerous here preside,
Than any other place beside,
To cast a transport o'er your soul,
And lift your heart beyond control.

With modest mien and sparkling eyes,
Each one, supremely graceful, tries
To comfort you who condescend
With them a moment sweet to spend.

The music rich they here bestow,
Awakes the heart's enraptured glow,
And with a cordial spirit bland,
They will your chosen cordials hand.

[illegible] Friday morning [illegible]

SCHOOL CHILDREN.—Mr. Atkinson has received the [illegible] prising this city, from which we are informed there are twelve hundred [illegible] children [illegible] excess of [illegible] the public school [illegible] will see the necessity of giving them more ample facilities. There is a want of room at the present time, and taking [illegible] as an example we shall always be [illegible] in that manner, unless we improve upon [illegible] while we have an opportunity and enter upon a scale of larger buildings than mere primary school houses when constructing new [illegible] for the Third Ward the coming season. Few, if any, of the school houses in San Francisco are sufficiently large to accommodate the children who desire to attend school, and last summer it was necessary to rent additional rooms for their accommodation and employ additional teachers. Portland is growing vigorously and now is the time to provide against such difficulties.

WILLAMETTE THEATER.—There was a large audience at the above place of amusement last evening, to greet the new company in the great tragedy of "Othello." Mr. J. H. Taylor appeared and nobly sustained the character of the Moor of Venice, being well supported by Mr. Wilson as Iago. Mrs. Macdonald, who has been in times past, and still is a favorite on this coast among the play goers, appeared as Desdemona. She was well received last evening and has a very promising future before her for winning laurels from Portland audiences. Miss Belle Douglas as Emilia, acted the part with her usual good taste. The other parts were well sustained. Miss Belle Divine obtained a warm reception, and sang two ballads, showing great sweetness and power, to execute one of them with anything like the proper pathos in that old building. The entertainment was well received throughout, an important event of the evening being that in which the principal performers were called before the curtain at the close of the first piece.

WANTED A PACKER.—A man engaged largely in the packing business, between California and Washoe in the early days, advertised that he wanted a hand who understood packing. A good est looking gentleman applied for the situation. "Do you understand packing?" asked the muleteer. "Well," replied the applicant, "I should think I ought to—I have packed a mule over one hundred times, inside of ten miles travel, and since that day have packed my own grub about these hills pretty well. I should think I understood the packing business, with that experience." But his would-be employer did not consider it a fair test of his capabilities and looked for some one else to fill the bill. That gentleman, who was such a packer in those days, is now one of the leading merchants of our city.

A COLLECTION.—The O. S. N. Company yesterday commenced the work of removing parts of machinery, steamer furniture, &c., from White's old ware-house, below B street, where it has been accumulating for years. Among the mass is apparently some portion of nearly every boat of note that has ever done service on this river. So extensive have been the operations of the Company that we doubt not some of the most interested ones would be astonished to see what they have accomplished, by putting such machinery, such steamers, &c., as they now employ in the trade from this city as far up to the mountains as water is found for boats to run—in place of the little crafts and machinery to which some of this copper-pipe belonged.

COLD.—March came in furiously yesterday, with a regular nor'-wester snow, and the chilling accompaniments of a winter's day, and continued cold up to the hour of our going to press. Ice formed in considerable quantities throughout the day and night, and remained in many places on streets, and besides the usual inconveniences of a cold day, it was found very convenient to have good fires in stores, offices and shops. The steamer Julia, laying at the O. S. N. Company's wharf, was fired up to prevent the water in her boilers from freezing.

AN EXPLANATION.—In our notice of yesterday in reference to a new Map Directory, we stated that Mr. Charles D. Snyder, at present of Siebert & Co.'s Book Bindery in this block, did the finishing of the maps, which is a test of an important fact for that character of work being done at home. Mr. Traver requests us to state, in justice to Messrs. Bosqui & Co., at whose bindery the work was done, that Mr. Snyder, at present of Siebert & Co.'s Bindery, did the finishing at San Francisco before his departure for this city. Snyder did the work.

INAUGURATION DAY.—On Saturday next we are informed the ladies of the Sanitary and Christian Commissions propose to join in giving a benefit to the sick and wounded soldiers, by some kind of an entertainment, the exact nature of which we do not understand as yet. The citizens of Portland should do something on that day. Our citizens, at least a number of them, have expressed a willingness to celebrate the day with becoming style.

RAZOR CLAMS.—Mr. D[illegible] Pittock has laid us under obligations for a fine parcel of razor clams, fresh from Clatsop. He has a few for sale at his store 116 First street, corner of Morrison. Fred Muller's, commonly known as Pomeroy, is serving the same kind of shell fish to his customers, and a clam chowder, with soup, [illegible] his excellent coffee, made in that Old Dominion, should be sufficient for a representative [illegible] any other man.

TRYING EXPERIMENTS.—Sundry individuals who were unaccustomed to cold weather, we presume, were trying the experiment whether whisky by cold kept them warm. We saw several who appeared, from the mud on their backs, to have realized the fact that whisky [illegible] enable them to keep their [illegible] on a slippery side walk.

ORDERED EAST.—We learn by private telegram from Fort Vancouver last evening that Brigadier General Alvord has been ordered to report at Washington City and designs leaving for the East as soon as possible. What particular mission we are not advised.

HARMONY CONCERT.—The concert, to be given under the direction of Prof. [illegible] takes place at Turn Verein Hall this evening. The programme appears in another column of to-day's paper.

MASONIC.—The attention of all Royal Arch Masons is called to the notice of the Special Convocation of Portland R. A. Chapter No. 3, to be held this evening at 7 o'clock.

Cometh a Blessing Down.

Not to the man of dollars,
Not to the [illegible]
Not [illegible]
[illegible]
Not to the [illegible]
[illegible]
Not in a [illegible]
Cometh a blessing down.

Not unto land's expansion,
Not to the [illegible]
Not to the [illegible]
Not to the [illegible]
Not to the sordid worldling,
Not to the [illegible] down,
Not to the haughty [illegible]
Cometh a blessing down.

Not to the [illegible]
[illegible]
Not to the [illegible]
Not to unholy fame,
Not in neglect of duty,
Not in the [illegible] crown,
Not in the smile of beauty,
Cometh a blessing down.

But to the one whose spirit
Yearns for the great and good;
Unto the one whose storehouse
Yieldeth the hungry food;
Unto the one who labors,
Fearless of the [illegible] frowns;
Unto the kind-hearted
Cometh a blessing down.

A Stricken Mother.—We think our readers will find in the following something touching, exhibiting, as it does, all the deep intensity of a mother's love. There is a grandeur in the conduct of this poor lone mother, whose love has made her mind, who yearns for one her poor faded eyes will never see again. More than a year ago her son, a member of a Connecticut regiment, was taken prisoner and confined at Andersonville. A short time afterwards several were exchanged. His mother in Connecticut, hearing of it, and believing that he was among the number, left her desolate home and came to Camp Parole, which is situated two miles from Annapolis, to seek her treasure among the boat loads landed on the Severn. She waited, wearily waited, day by day, for the coming of her boy; but, though many came, he was not among them. "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick," and so it was with her. Broken-hearted by constantly recurring disappointments, her mind, already shaken by grief, at last gave away. Ever since, more than six months, she has been stopping in this city—how, or where, I know not.

During all this time she comes to the office of Dr. Vanderkieft, the surgeon in charge, to ascertain whether any boat-loads of released prisoners have arrived. When the last detachment came in, she seemed overjoyed, and went from skeleton to skeleton, scanning them eagerly and anxiously. But her son was not here, and each day she went eagerly back to her home. The good-hearted surgeon, although he knew, and told her many times, that her son had been officially reported as dead, still answers her every day the same monotonous "No." She comes provided with a shirt and a pair of drawers, pantaloons, boots, and a cap, and when informed that her son has not yet arrived, goes down the graveled path across the lawn to the very end of the long wharf. There she stands looking over the broad water of the Chesapeake for fully an hour. Clad ever in the same neat dress and closely fitted bonnet, she gazes wistfully, longingly, out over the blue waste, as if her very eagerness would hasten on the bark she imagines bears back to her her child. But her tear-swollen eyes at last grow dim, her strength fails, and with the empty void aching in her breast, O! how agonizingly she turns to depart. That son she shall meet, poor, crazed, broken-hearted mother, never, never, this side the hither shore!

Taking Vengeance.—"Do you make calls on New-Year's?"

"Never," said my friend Tom. "I used to, but I'm cured."

"How so?" said I, anxious to learn his experience.

"Why, you see," said Tom, feelingly, "as I was making calls some time back, I fell in love with a beautiful girl—that she was. Well, sir, I courted her like a trump, and I thought I had her sure, when she eloped with a tailor—yes, sir' that lively creature did."

"She showed bad taste," said I, compassionately.

"More than that," remarked Tom, nervously. "Downright inhumanity is the word. I could stand being jilted for a down town broker, a captain with whiskers, or anything showy; that I could; but to be cut out, like a suit of clothes, by the ninth part of a man—a trifle over the decimal fraction of humanity—that was brutality. But I swore vengence, that I did."

"Vengence?" I nervously inquired.

"Yes, sir, said Tom, with earnestness, "and I took it. I patronized the robber of my happiness, and ordered a full suit of clothes regardless of expense. The tailor laid himself out on the job. I tell you they were stunning, you may believe it."

"But your vengeance?" said I, prompting him.

"I struck the tailor in his most vital point, that I did: I never paid that bill; no sir, I didn't. But these infernal clothes were the cause of all my future misfortunes that they were."

"How so?" said I with a smile of compassion.

"Wearing them, I captivated my present wife. She told me so, and I haven't had a happy day since. But I am bound to be square with that wretched tailor in the long run. I've left him a legacy on condition that he marries my widow."

Talk About Hard Tack.—"Hard tack," or army biscuit, has risen, in ordinary American parlance, to the dignity of an institution—that is to say, it is talked about, and has been joked over, to a degree which would fill many a volume like this, were all the Hard-tackiana collected. Perhaps the best spoken pun—one devised by no human brain, but strangely modeled by nature or chance, once presented itself to me under this popular name for military bread. On breaking open a specimen of the article, I found a large iron tack, which had been baked in by accident, and was, I need not say, several degrees harder even than the tack in which it was imbedded.

The tack in question is always packed in square wooden boxes—generally bearing date, as well as the brand of the maker or baker; anent which the following is told:

One day a lot of boxes of peculiarly hard crackers arrived in the camp on the James. Several of the boys were wondering at the meaning of the brand upon the boxes, which was as follows: "B. C. 603."

Various interpretations were given, but all were rejected, until one individual declared it was all plain enough—couldn't be misunderstood.

"Why, how so?" was the query.

"Oh!" he replied, "that is the date when the crackers were made—six hundred and three years before Christ—(603 B. C.)"

A retired cheesemonger, who hated any allusion to the business that had enriched him, said to Charles Lamb in the course of a discussion on the power of laws: "You must bear in mind, sir, that I have got rid of that sort of stuff which you poets call the 'milk of human kindness.'"

Lamb looked at him steadily, and gave acquiescence in these pithy words: "Yes, I am aware of that; you turned it into cheese several years ago."

A man brought before a justice of the peace in Vermont charged with some petty offense, pleaded in extenuation a natural infirmity. "I should have made a considerable figure in the world, Judge," said he, "if I hadn't been a fool: its a dreadful pull-back to a man."

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction, even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies), or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

Portland, Oregon, June 1, 1864.

Proclamation.

STATE OF OREGON, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, January 12th, 1865.

WHEREAS, I HAVE RECEIVED A REQUISITION from Maj. Genl. Irwin McDowell, commanding the Department of the Pacific, acting under the authority of the War Department, for a regiment of Cavalry for another term of years, by retaining in whole or in part the Regimental and Company organization of the present Oregon Regiment of Cavalry, to aid in the enforcement of the laws, to suppress insurrection and invasion and to chastise hostile Indians in this Military District.

Now therefore, I, Addison C. Gibbs, Governor of the State of Oregon and Commander-in-Chief of the Militia thereof, do hereby call upon the citizens of this State to organize themselves into Companies sufficient to fill the foregoing requisition.

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my [L. S.] hand and caused the Seal of the State of Oregon to be affixed. Done at Salem this 12th day of January, A. D. 1865.

ADDISON C. GIBBS,
Governor of Oregon.

Attest: SAMUEL E. MAY,
Secretary of State.

Plan of Recruiting.

The Regiment will retain the name of the 1st Cavalry Oregon Volunteers. It will consist of twelve Companies—seven Companies of the old Regiment will be recruited to the minimum strength required. Five new Companies remain to be raised. A Recruiting officer for each new Company will be appointed.

Commissions will be issued by the Governor to Recruiting officers conditioned that they shall recruit their respective Companies in the District to which they are assigned, and be ready to be mustered into the service within a time hereafter to be named. All the Officers for the new Companies and the First and Second Lieutenants for the old ones will be appointed as soon as the Companies are filled.

As soon as it is practicable, the State will be divided into Districts, according to the number of persons in each liable to military duty and to the number of troops therefore furnished. When each district has furnished its quota of men there will be no draft in the same under this call.

The State has provided by law for the payment of a bounty of $150 in State interest-bearing bonds, payable in gold to each Volunteer mustered into the service for three years, in addition to the bounties authorized to be paid by the United States.

Under Act of Congress, those who enlist for one year are entitled to a bounty from the General Government of one hundred dollars, for two years, two hundred dollars, and for three years, three hundred dollars, one-third of which is payable at the time of muster-in. Neither drafted men nor substitutes—furnished either before or after the draft—are entitled to bounty.

The wages of a private soldier are $16 a month, besides clothing, equipments, rations, medicines and medical attendance, and other allowances furnished by the United States.

The pay per month is to 1st Sergeants of Cavalry, $24; Sergeants, $20; Corporals $18; Buglers, $16. A Company can be mustered in on reaching a minimum of 82 enlisted men.

All the Horses for enlisted men will be furnished by the Government.

Appreciating highly the patriotic action of the people in responding to the previous call for an Infantry Regiment, it is hoped that equal alacrity will be exhibited in raising a Regiment of Cavalry.

Organization of a Regiment.

One Colonel,	One Reg't Commissary, (an extra lieutenant,)
One Lieut.-Colonel,	One Veterinary Surgeon,
Three Majors,	One Sergeant Major,
One Surgeon,	One Quartermaster Serg't,
Two Assistant Surgeons,	One Commissary Sergeant,
One Regimental Adjutant, (an extra lieutenant,)	Two Hospital Stewards,
One Reg't Quartermaster, (an extra lieutenant,)	One Saddler Sergeant,
	One Chief Trumpeter.

Organization of a Company.

One Captain,	Five Sergeants,
One First Lieutenant,	Eight Corporals,
One Second Lieutenant,	Two Trumpeters,
One First Sergeant,	Two Farriers or Blacksmiths
One Quartermaster Sergeant,	One Saddler,
One Commissary Sergeant	One Wagoner.

The minimum number of enlisted men required for a Company is 82; the maximum number, 101.

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN

DOUBLE TURBINE WATER WHEEL!

LEFFEL'S AMERICAN TURBINE HAS many advantages over all other Wheels, both Turbines and Overshot.

It has competed successfully with every variety of Wheel, and has always proved itself victorious.

This Wheel has been in use nearly Three Years on the Slate and HAS NEVER MADE A FAILURE.

It is CHEAPER than an overshot, MORE DURABLE, and will YIELD A HIGHER PER CENT. OF POWER from the same quantity of water. We have introduced five on this coast. They are not all in operation yet, but will be in a few days. The following testimonial is from an old and experienced Millwright well known in this State:

WESTPORT, CLATSOP CO., OREGON, Nov. 19th, 1864.

MESSRS. LEFFEL & MYERS—Dear Sirs: We have plenty of water now, and your DOUBLE TURBINE is in successful operation. We are satisfied that your Wheel is fully equal, if not superior to, the Overshot. With the same water that the overshot uses, we can do more work with the Turbine than with the Overshot. I have tried many Wheels which were claimed to be superior to an Overshot but yours is the first I have found. Hence we do not hesitate to recommend the American Double Turbine as the most efficient consumer of water in our knowledge.

JOHN WEST & CO.

We desire all who want Wheels to visit the following named places and have ocular demonstration of the above facts:

John West & Co, West Port, Clatsop, County, Oregon.
Lewis Love, Vancouver, W. T.
J. P. Lemburg, Idaho City, I. T.
Hampton Kelly three miles East of Portland.
Switzler & Co., Oregon City. Address

RICHARDS & McCRAKEN

THE OREGONIAN,

A

FIRST-CLASS POLITICAL AND FAMILY NEWSPAPER

Published Daily and Weekly.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE FIFTEENTH VOLUME,
Commencing November 18th, 1864.

The character of the OREGONIAN, which has been regularly issued for fourteen years, (being the oldest newspaper in the State) has become so well established and is so favorably known, that we hardly deem it necessary at the present time to announce that it will continue a FIRST-CLASS INDEPENDENT FAMILY AND POLITICAL NEWSPAPER. We shall spare no effort towards further improvement and progress, and to make the OREGONIAN not only a complete compendium of current news and passing events, but also a pleasant companion and a faithful commercial guide. It will contain full reports of important naval, military and political movements, with Stories, Sketches, Poetry, Editorials upon current topics, Correspondence from different sources and Telegraphic Dispatches up to the time of going to press.

It is the only paper in Oregon that gives full and unmutilated Telegraphic Reports, and that receives these reports in full expressly for its own columns.

The size of the WEEKLY is much enlarged with the commencement of the present volume, but the price remains still at the low sum of THREE DOLLARS per annum, hoping thereby to secure an increase of circulation as a reward of our enterprise.

Our columns will be devoted to the advocacy of sound principles, and we hope by a candid and courteous discussion of political principles to command readers of every political complexion and the respect of all our [illegible]

We shall specially endeavor to conserve the [illegible] and merit the patronage of the large and important mining regions of Idaho, Washington and our own State. [illegible] publish all matters of interest relating thereto, and [illegible] justice to their growth and importance, and shall [illegible] to receive interesting and reliable correspondence [illegible] that section of country.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

HARPER'S NEW MONTHLY MAGAZINE.

Critical Notices of the Press.

It is the foremost Magazine of the day. The fireside never had a more delightful companion, nor the million a more enterprising friend, than Harper's Magazine.—Methodist Protestant (Baltimore).

The most popular Monthly in the world.—New York Observer.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellence of HARPER'S MAGAZINE—a journal with a monthly circulation of 17,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each Number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal. It has great power in the dissemination of a love of pure literature.—Trubner's Guide to American Literature, London.

The volumes bound constitute of themselves a library of miscellaneous reading such as cannot be found in the same compass in any other publication that has come under our notice.—Boston Courier.
